SCHOLARSHIPS AND AWARDS

Delaware County Community College

DCCC is the center of educational opportunity in Delaware and Chester Counties. Students find success through associate degree and certificate programs, a clear-cut course to a bachelor's degree, career advancement opportunities or personal fulfillment. With locations throughout Delaware and Chester Counties, the College serves more than 27,000 students annually.

Delaware County Community College Educational Foundation's primary mission is to support students. The Foundation's commitment to student success evident from the many scholarships and awards described in these pages. Eligibility criteria are established by the donors themselves. While academic merit and financial need are the most common criteria, other factors frequently considered are academic major, geographical location or special circumstances, such as “mature women” or “part-time students.” All students are encouraged to review eligibility requirements and to apply as directed.

The Foundation also provides awards for faculty, alumni, students and staff members based on teaching performance, professional accomplishments, academic achievements and other measures.

Dr. Jerry Parker

The annual dinner honoring scholarship donors and recipients drew 250 guests to Drexelbrook Corporate Events Center in October. The opportunity for students to meet their scholarship donors and thank them in person for their support is a rewarding experience for both parties.

Dr. Jerry Parker, College president, kicked off the event with a warm welcome.

Three students were chosen to address the audience on behalf of their peers. William Zang, a natural science major with a 4.0 GPA; Kristen Shuman, a 4.0 GPA nursing major, who received scholarships from both the American Association of University Women, Eastern Delaware County and Valley Forge chapters; and Ayanna E. Gardner, an engineering major with a 4.0 GPA who received a Boeing scholarship.

The keynote address was delivered by Michael Mallowe, an award-winning writer and editor with a national byline and a career that includes web content and feature stories, investigative reporting and magazine writing. He was the senior editor of Philadelphia magazine, the founding editor of Main Line Today, a writer for Life and many other national publications, and a novelist and non-fiction author.

As an adjunct faculty member at the College, Mallowe discussed the many challenges students face and their ability to persevere and find a way to progress in their academic programs.
