

Special DCCC Transfer Partnerships

Dual Admissions and Core-to-Core Transfer Programs

Delaware County Community College offers Dual Admissions and Core-to-Core transfer agreements with a variety of colleges and universities within the Philadelphia and Chester County areas. These programs were designed to facilitate students' ease of transfer into many undergraduate majors. Dual Admission entitles students to be admitted into bachelor's degree programs at another college or university provided they earn an approved A.A. or A.S. degree from DCCC and meet the minimum GPA requirement. Students who choose to participate in the Dual Admissions program receive distinct advantages, such as waiving the application fee, scholarship eligibility, and invitations to college-sponsored events. Under the Core-to-Core agreement, students who complete an approved A.A. or A.S. degree will satisfy the transfer institution's general education requirements unless a specific course or two are required.

The colleges and universities that offer Core-to-Core and/or Dual Admissions programs are:

- Albright College
- Alvernia College
- Cabrini College
- Chestnut Hill College
- Immaculata University
- Peirce College
- Rosemont College
- Temple University
- Villanova University (Part-Time)

Students interested in Dual Admissions must sign an Intent to Enroll Form before earning 30 transferable credits. The Transfer Timetable (below) is a helpful guideline to follow within the transfer process. Adjustments can be made to suit individual needs.
