Dear Friends of the Foundation,

My fellow members on the Board of Directors of Delaware County Community College Educational Foundation and I are grateful to the College’s alumni, friends and other constituents who support our mission. Board members are motivated by a sense of community that is demonstrated by an investment of time and philanthropic dollars. We represent a diversity of professions and businesses, large and small. Our involvement facilitates partnerships, where appropriate, and philanthropic gifts for College priorities.

A strong community is made possible by institutions like Delaware County Community College that focus on career opportunities for residents, while also preparing students to transfer to four year institutions for advanced degrees. For this reason, our Board is committed to the work of the Foundation whose sole mission is to develop resources for students, faculty, programs and capital projects.

In recent years the College has focused on transforming the Marple Campus into a 21st century educational environment. This transformation was made possible by major investments by the College that were augmented by gifts from many donors. There is more to be accomplished, but with renewed support from our constituents, we will continue to make an impact on what the College is able to offer the community.

The Board’s service on various committees helps to ensure the success of Foundation activities. Annual gifts, which support the scholarship program, golf outing, events and other projects, rely on a great number of people to be successful. We owe a debt of gratitude to our Board members and to all donors whose names are listed in this report.

Sincerely yours,

Robert M. Madonna

2014 ANNUAL SCHOLARSHIP DINNER

The Foundation hosts an annual dinner in fall to recognize scholarship donors and scholarship recipients. Donors are applauded for their generosity and students for their accomplishments.

Keynote speaker, Amanda Valentin, Class of 2010 and graduate of University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences with a doctorate in pharmacy, spoke of how she overcame her lack of confidence in her ability to succeed in a challenging academic major. Encouraged by her progress at the College and support by her colleagues at the Walmart pharmacy where she was employed, Valentin continued to pursue her dream of becoming a pharmacist. She was also a Walmart Community Pharmacy Resident at the time of the dinner.

Crystal Griffin was one of three student speakers who spoke on behalf of the scholarship winners. She received the Masterson Family Scholarship.

Dr. David Grossman, Board of Trustees, congratulates Adrianna Huff on receiving the Marc A. Bender Endowed Scholarship.

Kristin Wilford (right) received the Harry L. LeFever Scholarship from Mary LeFever who established the award in memory of her husband, a former faculty member.
On behalf of the Press Club Serving the Philadelphia Suburbs, the Charles W. Crist Memorial Scholarship was presented by Bill Tyson and Marianne Rhodes (right) to Samantha Andricola.

Kay Ricker (center) congratulates Innyi Ju and Necole Greene on winning the ACT 101 Scholarship.

Dr. John Agar and wife Beatrice (from left) congratulate Heather Ford on receiving the John Russell Agar Nursing Scholarship, which was established in honor of his father.

DCCC Alumni Ed Betts, Maura Elliott (second from right) and Gloria Vincent (far right) award the Sweet Future Scholarship to Amanda Patton, a Communications major. The alumni established the scholarship as a student project and continue to fund it.

The six scholarship winners of the Louis W. Scott III Memorial Scholarships attended the Foundation dinner to thank Lou Scott Golf Classic committee members Mary Scott (far right) and Kathie Fox (far left) on their support of the golf outing which raised money for the scholarship. Scott created the scholarship in memory of her husband, former principal of Penncrest High School.
The Foundation has numerous awards for students, faculty, staff and alumni that recognize extraordinary accomplishments in the classrooms or broader community. Awards are presented throughout the year or at special events created for the awards.

Rain did not dampen spirits at the 15th annual Lou Scott Golf Classic – all the golfers showed up wearing rain gear and a smile. The golf outing has been played at The Golf Course At Glen Mills since its inception. Revenue from the event totals $220,000 to date and has supported 73 local high school graduates attending Delaware County Community College. Students from Penncrest High School are the primary beneficiaries of the scholarships.

Lou Scott was Penncrest High School’s beloved principal for 30 years and, at the time of his death in 2000, assisted the president of the College as a liaison to sponsoring school districts. Lou Scott’s legacy endures through the Lou Scott Golf Classic, an event that brings his friends and colleagues together each year in a spirit of competition and camaraderie.

After retiring from a successful career in banking, Bill Torian found himself busier than ever serving on non-profit boards and as an adjunct instructor in business at Delaware County Community College and Penn State. Retiring now a second time, Torian is only pursuing his passions – among them Delaware County Community College where he has served on the Educational Foundation Board of Directors for 22 years.

Torian’s dedication to the College’s mission of access and opportunity has motivated him to continue his service to the Foundation. He has chaired the Scholarship Committee, which reviews applications each year, gaining an acute appreciation for the unique needs of community college students. He also serves on the Finance Committee. Torian’s experience has inspired him to create a scholarship in his estate plans for a minority student majoring in business or STEM majors.

The William H. Torian, Jr. Memorial Scholarship will one day stand as a testament to his commitment to education and to his belief in the potential for success in each student.
The College received a $50,000 grant from J. P. Morgan Chase & Co. that will help fund training of low-income residents for careers in advanced manufacturing. In presenting the check, Mark Schrieber said that their goal is to strengthen partnerships with institutions that train individuals to compete for skilled jobs that are going unfilled. The firm’s $250 million New Skills at Work initiative hopes to make an impact at institutions like the College that share their commitment to the immediate employment needs in their community.

Phoenixville Community Health Foundation awarded a $20,000 grant in March 2014 to the Delaware County Community College Educational Foundation, the second in the current fiscal year, announced Kathleen A. Breslin, Executive Director of the College’s Educational Foundation. The additional $20,000 grant is indicative of a strong interest from Phoenixville residents in public safety and health-related majors. The College offers 17 programs in health-related majors and three programs in public safety.

“We are grateful that Dr. Louis J. Beccaria, President and CEO of Phoenixville Community Health Foundation, recognized the need for additional resources to support members of their service community who do not benefit from the reduced tuition of sponsoring school district residents,” said Breslin. During 2013-2014, 26 students were eligible for scholarships. To date, the Foundation has assisted 322 students with one-half tuition, for a total of $215,000.

Dear Donors,

Throughout the past year, we have thanked you for your contributions to the Foundation. The annual report presents another opportunity to express our gratitude and to document your generosity. Contributions for capital and annual programs in 2014-2015 totaled $1,304,129, an increase of $155,024 over last year.

In preparation for the College’s 50th anniversary in 2017, the Annual Fund campaign focused on gifts over a three-year period, with the expectation that donors would give special consideration to this milestone event by contributing in a significant way. Alumni have been challenged to make a first-time gift in response to grants from fellow alumni who will match the gifts of first-time alumni donors.

This report also showcases the Foundation’s 2014 Annual Dinner, which recognizes all those who support the scholarship program. With 131 scholarships totaling nearly $250,000, the Foundation continues to expand each year. New donors join a list of alumni, faculty, friends, board members, corporations, foundations and other organizations whose longstanding support has assisted worthy students for many years.

One of our largest scholarship programs, the Louis W. Scott III Memorial Scholarship, is bolstered every year by the annual Lou Scott Golf Classic. As noted in this report, the golf outing celebrated a 15th anniversary this year, raising a total of $220,000 and awarding 74 scholarships since its inception.

Your continuing support of the Foundation’s mission plays an essential role in the College’s student retention effort. It is also a vote of confidence in the work of faculty and administration. Thank you again for your ongoing interest and support.

Sincerely,

Kathleen A. Breslin
