Area Programs in Radiologic Technology

Drexel University at 1505 Race Street (previously Hahnemann Medical College)
Two-year Associate’s degree in Radiologic Technology. The Certificate in Radiologic Technology is no longer offered.
www.drexel.edu
http://www.drexel.edu/cnhp/radiologic_technology/welcome.asp

Thomas Jefferson University at 130 South 9th Street Full time, 24 month, Bachelor’s degree. Several programs of study in the Radiologic Sciences are offered, including; Radiography, Diagnostic Medical Sonography, Nuclear Medicine, Cardiac Sonography, Vascular Sonography, Radiation Therapy, Medical Dosimetry, Computed Tomography, Magnetic Resonance Imaging, Invasive Cardiovascular Technology.
www.jefferson.edu
http://www.jefferson.edu/jchp/di/index.cfm

Gwynedd-Mercy College in Gwynedd Valley Bachelor of Science degree program in conjunction with the Abington Memorial Hospital School of Radiologic Technology www.gmc.edu
http://www.gmc.edu/academics/schools/allied_health/programs/radtech/

Harcum College in Bryn Mawr Associate’s degree in Radiologic Technology (83.5 credits can be completed in 6 semesters) www.harcum.edu
http://www.harcum.edu/academic_programs/degree_programs/allied_health_science/radiologic_technology.html

Holy Family University Northeast Bensalem Township Associate Degree Program in Radiologic Science. Full time, 20-month, 73 credit, allied health curriculum designed to prepare the student for practice in the health specialty of radiography. Must attend an information session www.holyfamily.edu
http://www.holyfamily.edu/sn/radiologic.shtml

Immaculata University in Chester County Bachelor’s degree in Allied Health with specialization in Diagnostic Medical Sonography (Radiology) or Nuclear Medicine Technology http://immaculata.edu/academics/departments/healthsciencesandservices/index.htm

Crozer Chester Medical Center in Chester Diagnostic Ultrasound – 18 month advanced program – may require bachelor’s degree and/or a background in the medical field for admission.
http://www.crozerkeystone.org/healthcare-professionals/allied-health/

Please refer to the DCCC/Thomas Jefferson University transfer guide.
The University of Pennsylvania at 3400 Spruce Street Full time, two-year Radiologic Technology Educational Program sponsored by the University of Pennsylvania Medical Center.
http://www.uphs.upenn.edu/radiology http://www.uphs.upenn.edu/radiology/educ/index.shtml

Montgomery County Community College in Blue Bell – inquire about Shared Program Associate’s degree in Radiography (70 credit program completed in 2 years)
www.mc3.edu
http://www.mc3.edu/aa/career/programs/rt.htm

Community College of Philadelphia at 1700 Spring Garden Street Associate’s degree in Diagnostic Medical Imaging (69 credit program)
www.ccp.edu
http://www.ccp.edu/site/academic/degrees/diagnostic_imaging.php

Shared Programs with Philadelphia, Bucks and Montgomery County Community Colleges (see DCCC catalog pg. 9) allow students living in a sponsoring school district to pay sponsoring rates at these other community colleges for certain programs not offered in student’s home college. Students must first be authorized to participate in this program by the director of admissions.

5-2012