The College offers an array of transfer agreements with four-year schools. This agreement prepares students who complete a specific associate degree to transfer their credits into a parallel bachelor’s degree program at the partner college or university. Most Dual Admission agreements offer merit-based scholarships and an application fee waiver, so students participating in these agreements save money as well. Students must complete an Associate in Arts (A.A.), Associate in Fine Arts (A.F.A.), Associate in Science (A.S.), or Associate in Applied Science (A.A.S.) degree pursuant to the articulation specifications.

FATHER AND SON DUO:
BRIAN P. CASSIDY AND BRIAN CASSIDY JR.

Brian P. Cassidy and Brian Cassidy Jr. recently graduated from Delaware County Community College. Both earned Associate in Applied Science degrees and are working in the field of plumbing and heating, ventilation and air conditioning (HVAC).

Brian senior started at the College after being laid off from a long-held position as Energy Management Director at Mercy Fitzgerald Hospital. The College provided Brian with an opportunity to further his education and pursue a new career opportunity. He took CAD courses as well as the Plumbing Apprenticeship program. Today, he is a master plumber and runs his own HVAC and plumbing business.

After trying out a few career options, Brian junior decided to follow in his father's footsteps. He selected Delaware County Community College for the school's affordability. He majored in HVAC and refrigeration and graduated with high honors. Brian currently works at Haverford College as an Energy Management Controls Service Technician. In the future, he plans to return to the College to earn additional credits that he can transfer toward a bachelor's degree. Eventually, he wants to become an Energy Management Director, the same position his father held for 32 years.

Enrollment Central

In spring 2015, Delaware County Community College opened Enrollment Central, a one-stop hub for students needing assistance with admissions, financial aid, registration and payment. As soon as students enter the new space, located in Founders Hall on the Marple Campus, they are greeted by a staff member at the information desk. From here, they key in what they need assistance with and are placed into the electronic queue system, which allows students to see their estimated wait time and place in line. Students can also opt into receiving a text message, which will notify them right before they’re called up.

Instead of standing in line, students can wait in the lounge area or use one of the new computers until their number is called. Once they are called, students head to one of the numbered windows that have been designed with privacy in mind. The representatives at these windows are cross-trained and can assist with issues related to registration, admissions, financial aid and more. If further assistance is needed, students are referred to Admissions or the appropriate office. The new space makes all facets of the enrollment process more welcoming and accessible for the student.

Students and visitors are greeted by a staff member at the information desk as soon as they walk into Enrollment Central.

Students can sign in at the information desk, indicating what type of assistance they need.
Computer stations are available to students to use while they’re waiting.

Once their number is called, students go to one of the numbered stations for face-to-face assistance from a staff member.
Students should apply to the College and for Financial Aid at the same time.
